

BREXIT PROCEDURE

For British or Channel Islands boats wishing to visit the port of SAINT-QUAY PORT D'ARMOR
Temporary concession limited from June 1st to September 30th, 2023

This arrangement only applies to the Brittany ports of Saint-Quay / Saint-Cast / Lézardrieux / Tréguier / Trébeurden in the Côtes d'Armor:

✓ On arrival:

- Download the Entering and leaving form shown on the relevant marina website. One copy per boat must be completed and sent to the marina office email address shown on the Declaration of Arrival document, at the latest 24 hours prior to the boat's ETA.
- The marina office in question will then forward the completed document to the maritime authorities in Saint-Brieuc for processing.
- Once validated, a copy stamped will be returned to the marina office, which will in turn return it to the boat concerned. This copy should be kept on board at all times during the period that the boat remains in the Schengen area so as to be available in the event of a customs control, on land, at sea or in port. This document will act as the Schengen stamp in the passport.
- The boat is then cleared to sail elsewhere in the Schengen area.

✓ On departure:

- The final departure must be from Saint-Quay, Saint-Cast, Lézardrieux, Tréguier or Trébeurden.
- Download the Entering and leaving form (similar to the form sent on arrival) shown on the marina website. One copy per boat should be completed and sent to the email address of the departure marina.
The marina office will forward the completed document to the authorities in Saint-Brieuc. Once validated, a copy will be returned to the marina for onward transmission to the boat concerned.
Should there be any changes to the Entering form (crew changes etc.), I have to contact the customs office of Saint-Brieuc.
- The boat is now cleared to leave the Schengen area.

If entry into the Schengen area is via the ports of Saint-Quay / Saint-Cast / Lézardrieux / Tréguier / Trébeurden, then departure from the Schengen area must also be via one of these 5 ports.
Entry elsewhere into the Schengen area must be via a permanently designated PPF. Departure from the Schengen area must also be via a permanently designated PPF.
